ABOUT THE PROJECT

The Creston Community Forest & Tilted Brick Gallery Announce 2026 Juried Exhibition: “Healing Forests: in honour of what forests give us”

The Creston Community Forest, in partnership with the Tilted Brick Gallery, invites artists across the Kootenays to submit work for “Healing Forests: in honour of what forests give us,” a juried exhibition opening in September 2026.

The exhibition explores the many ways forests shape our lives: ecologically, economically, culturally, emotionally, and recreationally. Artists of all ages and working in any medium are encouraged to participate. This exhibition celebrates that work and invites artistic reflection on the value of forests in daily life.

The Creston Community Forest (CCF) manages more than 21,000 hectares of local forest with a focus on sustainable practices, long-term stewardship, recreation infrastructure, and community benefit.

Call to Artists: Juried Exhibition — “Healing Forests: in honour of what forests give us”
Forests quietly shape every part of life in the Kootenays: our water, our wildlife, our work, our trails, and our sense of belonging. Yet their importance is often overlooked. That’s where the artists come in.

The Creston Community Forest, in partnership with The Tilted Brick Gallery, invites creators from across the Kootenays to bring this truth to life in a juried exhibition.
